

Spain Study Visa

Application pack — Embassy of Spain in Tunis (BLS)

Intensive Spanish course at Estudio Sampere → Master's degree in Spain, September 2027

Applicant: [Nom et prénom]

Prepared: 26 September 2026

How to use this pack

- Text highlighted in [yellow] is a personal fact only you can supply. Replace every highlighted blank, then remove the highlight.
- Every fact must be true and backed by a document in your file. The consulate checks bank statements, school letters and employer letters, and a false statement leads to refusal.
- Print each letter on its own page. Before printing, delete the section title and the blue guidance box above the letter. Sign in blue ink and date it.
- Part 1 explains why the file is built this way. Parts 2 to 9 are what you prepare and submit.

Contents

1. Analysis: what approved files contain, and why files get refused
2. Final checklist, in the order BLS wants it
3. Motivation letter (carta de motivación, Spanish)
4. Cover letter and document index (carta de presentación, Spanish)
5. Parent's sponsorship letter (attestation de prise en charge, French)
6. Text for the doctor: medical certificate (French)
7. Email to Estudio Sampere: requesting the visa letter (Spanish)
8. Email requesting a study-visa appointment (French)
9. Interview preparation, and the final check before you submit

1. Analysis

I compared four sources: the embassy's official requirements page, an agency's checklist for Tunis, and two posts from the "BLS visa espagne TUNISIE" group written by people who went through the process (June–July 2026). Here is what they agree on, where they differ, and what that means for your file.

1.1 What every approved file has in common

Pattern	What it means for you
Complete and in order	BLS checks your file against its own checklist at the counter. Most setbacks come from a missing document or a missing translation, not from the applicant's profile. Each document is stacked: original → copy → Spanish translation → copy of the translation.
Apostille + sworn translation	Every Tunisian public document (birth certificate, B3, medical certificate, blocking certificate, sponsorship letter, diplomas) is apostilled by a notary and translated by a sworn translator from the embassy's list. Where required, the apostille goes on both the original and the translation.
Money blocked at the bank	Applicants from Tunis prove their funds with a student file at the bank (dossier scolaire) and a blocking certificate showing the money is "irrevocably blocked". The agency uses €700 a month; the legal minimum is €600. Only you or your parents can be sponsors.
Recent documents	The medical certificate, birth certificate, payslips and attestation de travail must all be less than 3 months old on the day of your appointment.
Paid studies	A place reservation or the full fees, always with a letter from the school confirming it received the payment. If you pay in instalments, the unpaid balance goes into the blocked account.
Short supporting documents	A short motivation letter ("don't make it long"), a CV and a language certificate. None are mandatory, but they are consistently recommended.
Rarely an interview	"99% without interview", unless something in the file needs explaining. A clean, consistent file is how you avoid one.

1.2 How your case differs from the posts

The group posts and the agency checklist were written for university admissions. You are applying for a language school, which the regulation treats as a separate category ("actividad formativa", Real Decreto 1155/2024, art. 52.1.e.2º). That changes four things:

1. The school must be accredited by Instituto Cervantes, and the course must be in person. The school's letter has to say so explicitly (see Part 7).
2. You need an attestation de non-boursier (a certificate that you hold no scholarship). The agency requires it for language schools only.
3. The officer will ask themselves: "Is a language course the real purpose?" Your answer is a coherent plan: your current Spanish level → the intensive course → the DELE B2 → named master's programmes that require B2 → September 2027. The motivation letter (Part 3) is built around that chain.
4. The permit ends 15 days after the course. It lasts one year at most, and there is no automatic right to work. The regulation does not provide for switching to a master's from inside Spain, so the plan states that you will return to Tunisia and apply for the master's visa. That is honest, and it also reassures the officer.

1.3 Why files get refused, and how this pack prevents it

Reason for refusal	Prevented by
Missing apostille or translation	Checklist (Part 2) with a translation and an apostille column for every item
Too little money, or a recent unexplained deposit	Blocked account of at least €700 × months; 6 months of the parent's bank statements; proof of the source for any large deposit
Insurance not accepted	Health insurance from an insurer authorised in Spain, covering the whole stay, with no co-payment and no waiting period
Medical certificate invalid	Exact wording (Part 6), legalised by the regional health directorate, less than 3 months old
School not eligible	Visa letter showing Cervantes accreditation, in-person attendance and hours per week (Part 7)
Purpose not credible	Motivation letter with named master's programmes, a DELE date and a timeline (Part 3)
Dates or names inconsistent	Final consistency check (Part 9)
Late application	Submit at least 2 months before the course starts

1.4 Conflicts between the sources, and my recommendations

- Insurance. The embassy requires health insurance from an insurer authorised in Spain, with cover similar to Spain's public health system. The agency offers travel insurance (about 500 TND, €30,000 cover). Follow the embassy. If you use the agency's policy anyway, get written confirmation that it is accepted for a national study visa.
- Amount. The legal minimum is €600 a month; the agency uses €700. Block €700 a month, which satisfies both.
- Flight and accommodation. The embassy requires neither. The agency asks for a return flight reservation and 3 months of paid accommodation; the group lists the flight as optional. A flight reservation is optional: a simple reservation is enough, and don't buy the ticket before you have the visa. One month of paid accommodation is enough to show where you will live when you arrive. Only accommodation prepaid for the whole stay reduces the amount of money you must show.
- Appointment. The embassy page only describes Schengen (tourist) appointments. The group reports requesting a study-visa appointment by email. Ask BLS which applies (info.tun@blshelpline.com, +216 71 138 748), and use Part 8 if email is the channel.

2. Final checklist (in BLS order)

Columns: Trad. = sworn Spanish translation. Apost. = apostille from a notary. “Conseillé” = recommended. “Si pas en ES” = translate only if the document isn’t already in Spanish. For each item, bring: original → copy → translation → copy of the translation.

3. Carta de motivación

One page. Replace every highlighted blank with a true fact. If a sentence doesn't apply to you, delete it rather than keep something you can't prove.

Objet : Rendez-vous visa d'étude (long séjour) – [Nom et prénom] – Passeport [numéro]

9. Interview preparation and final check

Interviews are rare, but if you get one, your answers must match your documents exactly. Keep each answer short: 2 or 3 sentences. Practise answering questions 1, 2 and 11 in Spanish.

Likely question	What a strong answer contains
1. Pourquoi l'Espagne ?	The named master's programmes, and why that field and that university (a concrete reason).
2. Pourquoi un cours de langue et pas directement le master ?	The programmes require B2; your current level is B1 ; the course is the step that gets you there, not the goal.
3. Pourquoi Estudio Sampere, et cette ville ?	Cervantes accreditation, DELE preparation, and your personal reason.
4. Combien d'heures par semaine ? Quelles dates ?	The exact figures from the school letter.
5. Quel master, quelle université, quel niveau exigé ?	Names, and the language requirement you printed.
6. Qui finance ? Quelle profession, quel revenu ?	The parent's job, employer and income, and the blocked amount.
7. Où allez-vous loger ?	The address and dates from the booking, and whether it's paid.
8. Que ferez-vous à la fin du cours ?	DELE exam → master's admission → return to Tunisia to apply for the master's visa.
9. Et après le master ?	Your concrete professional plan.
10. Avez-vous de la famille en Espagne ?	The truthful answer.
11. ¿Puede presentarse en español?	3 or 4 simple sentences: name, studies, plan.
