

The plan: proof of the master's by 1 December 2026

Prepared 28 September 2026, updated 30 September 2026 for Mohamed Aziz Dardouri. Three strategy agents proposed ideas, five research agents checked them on official sources, and a reviewer acting as the consular officer tested the result. Everything below was checked on an official page unless marked to confirm.

The idea in one line: the course is presented as the condition of a master's you are already joining, not as "a language course". In practice:

- your main proof is a written admission to a Madrid master's whose only condition is Spanish B2;
- your backup is an application receipt from a public university;
- the Spanish course is in the same city and long enough to reach B2;
- the bank file, the money and the dates all tell the same story.

What changed after checking

Idea	Verdict
University of Zaragoza	Dropped. Its Spanish-taught MU Ingeniería Informática is "EN EXTINCIÓN DESDE EL CURSO 2026-27" (being closed; no new students). Its new masters are taught in English.
UCM, UAM, Universidad Europea, Mondragon, CUNEF, Deusto	Dropped. They need B2 or a high Spanish level when you apply, or the master is closing.
Spanish course at a university's own language centre instead of Sampere	Not worth it. The rule that treats these courses as "higher education" (Instrucción SEM 3/2025) binds the immigration offices, not the consulate. These courses start in January, which means filing by early November, and several are run by companies.
Universidad de Navarra, Big Data (Madrid)	Dropped. It costs €19,600, classes are on Fridays and Saturdays, and its pages contradict each other on whether the deposit is refunded.
Sampere 20-week course	Replaced by 32 weeks. 20 weeks is too short to reach B2, and it would force the switch to the master's by about 10 May.
UC3M, UPM, Universidad de La Laguna, Ministry equivalence, scholarships, Erasmus Mundus	Not useful before 1 December. UC3M needs a B2 upload, UPM opens in January, La Laguna is part-online, the Ministry takes up to 6 months, no scholarship is open to Tunisians before December, and Erasmus Mundus is taught in English.

1. The Spanish course

- Estudio Sampere Madrid, long-term course: 20 lessons a week (45 minutes each, so 15 hours a week) for 32 weeks, Monday 8 February to Friday 17 September 2027, about 480 hours.
- Price: 2026 price €4,090 + €49 enrolment. Confirm the 2027 price.
 - It starts any Monday.
 - The visa letter is issued only after full payment of the course and accommodation.
 - If the visa is refused, everything is refunded except €350.
- Sampere's status: Cervantes-accredited and an accredited DELE/SIELE exam centre. Its own price list presents long-term courses as preparation for university: "A B2 level of Spanish is required to access Spanish universities".
- Why 32 weeks:
 - Going from A1–A2 to B2 takes about 400 guided hours or more.
 - Your permit then runs to about 2 October 2027 (end of course + 15 days).
 - So you file the master's permit in Madrid by about early August, after your SIELE result, with no gap before an October master's.
- Filing deadline: file at least 2 months before the course starts (RD 1155/2024 art. 36.1). For 8 February the last day is Monday 7 December 2026. The course must last at least 91 days.

2. The master's proofs to have by 1 December

Ranked from strongest to weakest. Aim for three or four of them, all in software or security and all taught in Spanish.

#	Proof	What you get	Cost	Notes
1	UNIE – MU en Ciberseguridad (Madrid, in person, taught in Spanish, RUCT 3500240) — main target	Written conditional admission. UNIE's rules, art. 10.2: non-Spanish speakers "serán admitidos con carácter condicional", with B2 proven later by a certificate or UNIE's own test.	Applying is free. The reservation amount isn't published, so pay only if it's refunded when a visa is refused.	Admission is rolling: interview → documents → committee. They give the result by phone, so ask for it in writing. You reported UNIE may not offer this, so confirm in writing first . If UNIE is out, UPV Sistemas Software becomes your main target.
2	UNIE "Despega" study aid, 2027-28	A written aid decision (30% or 50%) within 5 working days, after admission. Applications 1 Oct – 21 Dec 2026, in order of arrival.	Free to apply. If granted, the reservation must be paid within 4 days.	Only after the UNIE admission. Confirm the aid is for the October 2027 edition.
3	Universidad de Cádiz – pre-admission letter "for visa procedures": MU Seguridad Informática (Ciberseguridad), in person, Puerto Real campus, taught in Spanish	A pre-admission letter from a public university, which its Postgraduate Office issues specifically for visas	Free	Send Email 2 of the emails PDF, with passport and diploma copies. They may ask for a copy of your embassy appointment. This is pre-admission; the real admission is in the Andalusian window in January.

#	Proof	What you get	Cost	Notes
4	UPV Fase 0 — public backup , up to 4 masters for one fee: 1) Sistemas Software, 2) Análisis de Datos (no language requirement), 3) Computadores y Redes or Automática e Informática Industrial (Spanish B2), 4) optional: Tecnologías, Sistemas y Redes de Comunicaciones (Spanish or English B2)	Application summary + paid fee receipt. Later, the degree-equivalence decision and possibly an admission certificate.	€155.22	The 2027-28 dates aren't published; last year it opened on 17 November. The masters without a language requirement can admit you without B2, which makes them your safety net . The B2 ones show in writing why you need the course. Admission to a higher preference cancels the lower ones. Ask which subjects are taught in Valencian.
5	CEU Fernando III (Seville) – MU Business Analytics & Big Data	Written conditional admission before payment; interview result in 24–48 h	€350 reservation, not refunded if the visa is refused	Only if its 2027-28 intake opens before December. It's more business than computer science.
6	Optional: Universidad de Murcia degree-level check for MU Big Data	A decision naming that master's	€55	Only if UPV Fase 0 hasn't opened by about 20 November.

What UNIE's letter must say:

- the committee has evaluated your file;
- "admisión condicionada" to the Máster Universitario en Ciberseguridad, modalidad presencial (the official register also lists online places);
- full-time, 60 ECTS;
- the start date (October 2027) and the price;
- the only condition is B2 (certificate or UNIE's own test), and the deadline for it.

A wording rule: never call the UPV receipt an "admission". It is a pre-registration (preinscripción).

3. Supporting documents to have by 1 December

- Your current Spanish level, certified:
 - SIELE Global in Tunis by 20 October (€145, at the Instituto Cervantes or España La Academia Española, Lac 2; results in 3 weeks or less); and/or
 - an Instituto Cervantes Tunis intensive module in October–November (last published price 590 TND for 60 hours), with its certificate.
- DELE B2 registration in Madrid for 22 May 2027:
 - online from 18 November, €204 (2026 price), paid by international card;
 - keep the emailed resguardo (registration receipt);
 - it is also what allows the one extension of your course permit if needed (art. 55.5);
 - refunds only within 14 days.
- MedTech letter, stating:
 - your degree gives access to postgraduate studies;
 - your credits in ECTS (MedTech says 5 years = 300 ECTS, so it must state which unit your 292.5 is);
 - the language of instruction;
 - the exact degree title.

Also ask for a list of your security-related courses: that is your link to cybersecurity. - Bank file, under Central Bank circular 2025-10, art. 6: - money for a language course before your main studies can be transferred only if the bank registers one file covering both the course and the master's; - open it with UNIE's letter and/or the UPV receipt; - the bank file itself then becomes proof of your plan. - Two-year budget and sponsor proof: - salary or tax certificates; - 6–12 months of bank statements; - the source of any large deposit. - Year 1: course €4,139 + blocked funds €6,300 (€700 × 9 months, about 25 January to 2 October) + return ticket + insurance. - Year 2: UNIE tuition (about €6–7k, to confirm) or UPV €4,240.80 (non-EU rate) + living costs. - One-page itinerary (cronograma): each step with its date and the number of the document that proves it. - Other evidence: - positive replies from coordinators only; - certificates of what you have done since graduating (jobs, internships, certifications). - Existing pack items: - apostilled criminal record (B3); - medical certificate; - insurance; - accommodation; - sworn Spanish translations of every document not in Spanish (the embassy requires them).

4. Dated to-do list

This week (29 September – 4 October)

- UNIE: send Email 1 (emails PDF) and call +34 919 032 201 to ask for the admission interview.
- Sampere (sampere@sampere.com): ask for the 2027 price of the 32-week long-term course in Madrid starting 8 February 2027. Ask for a letter stating:
 - the dates;
 - 20 lessons a week;
 - the target level of B2;
 - SIELE/DELE preparation;
 - full payment.
- MedTech: request the postgraduate-access certificate, the transcript, and a letter on the language of instruction.
- Documents: start the apostille and sworn Spanish translation of your diploma and transcript.
- Bank: ask how it applies art. 6 (one file for course + master's) and which master's documents it accepts.
- Instituto Cervantes Tunis (actun1@cervantes.es): book the placement test and ask about the autumn intensive module.
- SIELE: book the SIELE Global in Tunis (sessions are listed until 20 October).
- UPV: send Emails 3 and 4 (emails PDF). Ask for the Fase 0 dates and which subjects are taught in Valencian.
- Cádiz: send Email 2 (emails PDF, with passport and diploma copies) to get the pre-admission letter for the visa.

October

- UNIE interview and documents → get the written conditional admission.
- Collect the sponsor's documents.
- Request the embassy appointment for 1–4 December (the email is in Part 11 of the pack).

From Tuesday 10 November: check the UPV Fase 0 page every day. Apply on the day it opens, pay, and download both documents.

Wednesday 18 November: register for DELE B2 in Madrid (22 May 2027).

Friday 20 – Wednesday 25 November: go / no-go decision

- GO if you hold the UNIE written letter or the UPV receipt (ideally both):
 1. pay Sampere to get the visa letter;
 2. block the funds;
 3. buy insurance and book accommodation;
 4. file on 1–4 December (legal last day: Monday 7 December).
- NO-GO if you hold neither: don't file a weak file.
 - A refusal stays on record, and the same file can be rejected at intake next time.
 - Sampere starts any Monday, so move the course start later and file 2 months before it, with the new proofs.

Tuesday 1 December: the file is complete.

5. After you arrive (the interviewer may ask)

1. Arrive around late January. The visa can take up to about 5 weeks.
2. The course runs 8 February – 17 September.

3. Take SIELE at Sampere in June or July (results in 3 weeks or less), then send the B2 certificate to UNIE.
4. Get the admission and pay the fees.
5. File the master's permit in Madrid by about early August, at least 2 months before your permit ends. Also ask UNIE whether it can file the application itself (art. 54.6).

If that fails:

- Safety net: UPV Sistemas Software, which has no language requirement.
- Last resort: use the one extension (it needs the DELE registration), or return to Tunisia and apply for the master's visa from there.

6. What the motivation letter and the interview must say

1. One goal: the MU en Ciberseguridad at UNIE, in person, October 2027 (or UPV Sistemas Software if UNIE is out). Present it as the specialisation of your software-engineering degree (cite your security courses and projects), with UPV Sistemas Software as the alternative.
2. Why in Spanish, and why Spain: give true, specific reasons (the programme's content, an official European degree, your career plan). Expect the question "Why not an English-taught master's, or Spanish lessons at the Cervantes in Tunis?"
3. A realistic language path:
 - your certified level today;
 - about 480 hours of course;
 - your SIELE date;
 - the exact status of each university document, in precise words.
4. Two-year funding: who pays, how much, and the bank file covering the course and the master's.
5. The fallback: if you don't reach B2 or aren't admitted, you return and apply from Tunisia. Know every date by heart, and answer in Spanish as far as you can.

Reviewer's assessment:

- about 6/10 as first drafted;
- about 7.5/10 with these fixes;
- about 3/10 with neither the UNIE letter nor the UPV receipt, which is why the go / no-go step exists.
